

From: christine_doerr@hotmail.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/25/02 2:56pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Any corrective measures must be weighed against the well-being of consumers. In fact the very monopolistic practices for which Microsoft has been criticized were BENEFICIAL to consumers because they provided a standard platform that all application developers can depend on. The result? More reliable application software (=less frustration for consumers). The proposed settlement seems to me to prevent future abuses while protecting consumer rights. We should go forward with it.